• On an early end to tuition where a refund is due, used hours are recalculated at the normal hourly rate applying when the block was bought.

• Example: £460 paid; six hours used at £48 = £288; refund = £172.

• No separate refund administration fee. Refund any amount due to the original payer.

Ordinary lesson cancellation charges

Less than 48 hours' notice or failure to attend may incur the full booked lesson fee. For prepaid pupils, the booked lesson time may be deducted from credit. Genuine emergencies may be considered individually.

Intensive-course payments and cancellation

Stage	Refund / payment arrangement
Booking confirmed	£800 booking payment reserves the agreed tuition week
48 hours before start	Remaining £800 payment due
Cancel 21 days or more before	£800 refund — no charge
Cancel 7–20 days before	£600 standard refund (£200 charge)
Cancel fewer than 7 days before	£400 standard refund (£400 charge)

These are standard cancellation charges, not unconditional penalties. Charges will be reduced where they exceed reasonable losses after replacement bookings and costs saved. Tracy may offer rearrangement or an additional goodwill refund; statutory rights take precedence.

If Tracy cannot provide the course, undelivered tuition is refundable. Any refund goes to the original payer. Where the full £1,600 has already been paid and no tuition has been delivered, the additional £800 is normally also refunded.

Payment methods

Bank transfer or cash. Ordinary lesson payments are normally due before the lesson unless otherwise agreed.
